Many useless nostrums have been palmed upon the public, and I hesitated for some time, until thoroughly convinced of its ofference.

WM. H. LIPPITT, Esq.,—Dear Sir:—I have no hesitation in saying that your Specific is one of the best medicines extant for Dysentery, Diarrhæ, &c. You possibly may recollect my case; if it has escaped your memory, I will give you briefly the facts. I had tried everything that I had seen used, but with little success; and after using enough to start twenty-five Homeopathic M. Ds., I began to despair, when you kindly offered me your invaluable Medicine, which cured me most effectually.

Yours, truly,

MR. WM. H. LIPPITT, — Dear Sir:—It is with pleasure I acknowledge the wonderful effects of your Medicine for curing Diarhoea or Bowel Complaints, as I am satisfied it was the means, under God of saving the life, first of my Child, and then of my Brother. As my Brother was given up by two of the most eminent physicians in this place, Drs. Richardson and Wregg, and when I consulted the latter, as to the propriety of trying it on him so low, he said I might, to satisfy myself that I had left nothing untried, but he did not think that Medicine would be of any use to him. But, thank God, he was mistaken, as we saw the salutary effects in 24 hours, and in ten days he was able to be out of bed. I remain yours, very truly and gratefully,

WM. L. MOORE.

From the Buffalo Democrat of August 22. A Live Yankee-Raising of the Steam Frigate Missouri at Gibraltar.

The United States steam frigate Missouri was burned and sank in Gibraltar harbor, on the 23d of August, 1843. She careened as she went down, and laying upon her beam ends, presented one of her shafte upward, very near the surface of the water. This mass of iron was nineteen inches in diameter, and of course offered a dangerous obstruction to the navigaon of the Bay. The existence moreover of so vast body as the sunken frigate at the hottom of a haroor in which the tide ebbed and flowed, and strong currents continually shifted the sand, was not to be olerated in an English port, so important to the commercial and war marine of Britain as was Gibraltar. The British Government accordingly presented the

They abandoned the enterprise and returned to England.

The necessities of the case induced Mr. Webster to take hold of the matter, and find a man who would free Gibralter of that obstruction. He lighted on Jno. E. Gowen, of Boston. This gentleman's documen-LIPPIT'S SPECIFIC.

Loungers in the Park.

We have been puzzled says the New York Herald, to account for the strange looking "humans" that we can see any day in the City Hall Park from our office window. No matter how hot the weather may be, there are always a greater or less number lolling under the shade of the trees, sitting on the chains that compass the grass plots, or if old Sol does not shine too fiercely they use the Hall steps for chair, bed and lounge. The men are a nondescript race of bipads, with their heads apparently as full of phi-losophy at their clothes are of holes—for they sit, as it were, gravely discussing some knotty metaphysical point with all the seriousness of those learned in the logic of the schools. The women, (for the females sometimes outnumber the male loungers,) are still more incomprehensible. They are generally dressed case to ours at Washington, and requested us to rein faded calico gowns, with short sleeves, which reveal brawny, though usually well proportioned arms. One day, not long since, we cautiously approached a group of these male and female itinerants, and while one knot was discussing the Nebraska bill, the other, Lovi and Marshall. These gentlemen had acquired a female quartette, with a rosy dumpling of a babe great reputation in England by raising the line-ofposed the all absorbing topic of love. DEAR R-: I thought you would have kept your promise before this. For three weeks in succession I have been at the Park fountain at 8 p. m., as you advertised in the Herald you would meet me there; but you have failed to keep your word. Little did I think when I left my father's house at -- , Dutchess county, that you would so soon forsake and leave me in a large unfriendly city, without any means of support. Could you look in the face of your child and see his bright eyes, so much like yours, when you swore you loved me, I am sure your heart would melt. God only knows how I am to live. In going to the Park every day I made the acquaintance of some females, who live, I will not say how, but they have hearts, even if the world denies the factfor when they heard my story, tears filled their eyes, and they took me to their humble lodgings and provided for my necessities. But I am so weak I fear I shall not hold out much longer. Already that fearful scourge, the cholera, has taken five out of the house in which I lodge; and as I watch the face of my darling babe I expect every day to see the destroyer fix his grasp upon his little features. Oh! why did I leave my parents to trust myself in the hands of a faithless man! Alas! that I was so foolish, so wicked! But here I am. To go home would a disgrace which my sex, frail as it is, will never forgive. Here I shall soon die; for rather than steal, dark waves which roll around this mighty city .come back? Days seem like months, hours like weeks; and minutes! the agony of a day sometimes appears to be concentrated into one. I shall wait a few days longer, when, if I do not hear from you, you will never see me more. I trust to leave this letter in some place where you may get it after I am gone. Remember that upon your guilty head rests the death of two human beings who, with your protection might have been happy; but without it-my pen refuses to write the future. Farewell, forever.

TRIUMPH OF REASON !-- Judge Douglas was refused the disease, is ordinarily an evidence of fatal disor- which will never condemn him without hearing. [Philadelphia Ledger.

We look at this matter simply in its civil aspect, with reference to the relations of men to each other and to the country, in their character of citizens. In this light we cannot avoid the conclusion that any political association, founded upon the avowed principle of drawing a line of distinction between citizens upon grounds not recognised by the Constitution, is, in spirit, opposed to that instrument, and the success of such association would be to render the Constitution so far inoperative. The Constitutional equality between citizens would, in fact, no longer exist. The proscribed sect or sects would be as effectually cut off from it as though degraded by an express law .-Many, no doubt, who favor these new movements are perfectly sincere and conscientious, but we ask them to reflect cooly upon the matter. To act as not be when fully developed, for it is the nature of bitterness. Unlike other excitements, which wear smoulder for a time but are seldom if ever extin-

Of the opposition to naturalized citizens we intend to say little or nothing. It is, of course, plainly and fairly within the jurisdiction of Congress to establish such uniform rule of naturalization as may seem best to its wisdom: and, of course, the agitation for a change or reform in the laws for the admission of foreigners to the rights of citizenship is simply a matter of policy, and such change or reform is subject to discussion, like any other law. This it would be folly to dispute, or to say that plausible reasons might not be adduced in favor of such change or reform. But there exists a class of citizens who have become such under the guarantee of laws made in pursuance of the Constitution, to whom that instrument accords full equality, with the solitary exception of being ineligible to the offices of President or Vice-President of the United States. While the Constitution so stands, fair reasoning leads to the inevitable conclusion that any party, avowedly started for the purpose of establishing other disabilities and exclusions than those contemplated and expressed in the Constitution, is, in fact, at variance with the spirit and letter of that instrument. We really don't know what Mr. Ashe's views on the subject are. We are certain that we cannot reflect his preference, since we have expressed no preference at all, unless that for good Democrats should be so construed, and we presume few Democrats will dissent from that. The truth is that we have never interchanged ideas with Mr. Ashe on the subjecthave not seen him since March last-have not heard from him since that time, on any political subject, nor on any other save and except the Cape Fear Bar matter, and in that he expressed his feelings of gratitude to his colleagues, of both parties, from this State, for their hearty co-operation, as well as his appreciation of the genuine North Carolina spirit which actuated citizens and not as religionists. We could not have reflected upon their opinion in the matter, as we were not then aware that they had made any official report to the Commissioners upon the subject. A single isolated case, whether of yellow fever or otherwise, does not constitute an epi demic, and that case is now so far recovered as to hear out our assertion that none exists here now. soon as convenient after her departure for Vera Cruz. In connection with this movement we may as well mention a rumor which has reached us, that the agents of Alvarez borrowed three millions of dollars from individuals in San Francisco for the purchase of ships and munitions of war at this port, designed for revolutionary purposes in Mexico.

Among the vessels bought with this or other money, we are told, were the screw-steamer Benjamin Franklin, formerly running from New York to New Orleans, and the bark Catharine Augusta. The propeller was altered and fitted up recently by Mr. Wm Perine, at Greenpoint, Long Island, as a war-steamer. Her sides were pierced for ten guns, and all the requisite accommodations were made in the interior for nowder, guns, &c.

The expedition has been in progress about three months, and the utmost secrecy has been observed by those interested in it.

The bark Catharine Augusta took on board pow der, gun carriages, and other articles of warfare, at the foot of North Moore street last week. The back is now in North River, off the Battery, ready to clear for "St. Thomas and a market," which means any.

The Benjamin Franklin is loaded with coal and stores, and a limited quantity of small arms. Her guns and ammunition, and an extra supply of coals, are on board the Catharine Augusta, and will be transferred to the Franklin at sea. The Franklin is also ready to leave, and will probably clear at the Custom Honse for the same destination, or perhaps for Gibraltar.

How soon they will leave will depend, probably. upon the movements of the Santa Anna. Gen. Alnonte, who is probably informed of what is afoot, may detain the Santa Anna, in which case the sailing of the chasseurs may be indefinitely delayed.

The Franklin will carry about eighty men, all told. a majority of whom are said to be citizens of the United States. Her powder magazine are in the forward part of the ship, and four port-holes for guns have been pierced forward of the machinery. The other port-holes are at the stern.

All the vessels of both parties will sail from New York under the American flag, and every sailor has hired himself for one year and the engineers for two. The Santa Anna is nearly ready to depart for Vera Cruz. that prevails among them, in favor of that policy, hours being spent in their attempted recovery. The as far as we have been able to learn, proves how effort was useless. easily it could be accomplished. We understand that the object of this proposed movement, which may be time to check certain efforts being made nearer home, to reduce prices to a lower figure for the remainder of the season, which would result in serious disasters to the entire trade."

It would not be easy to imagine a more audacious effort to take advantage of the public than this which the editor of the Journal notices without a word of condemnation. Throughout the whole of the present season it has been industriously represented that the demand for coal was greater than the mining capacity of the anthracite region could supply, and that consequently prices could not go down, but must go up. Being unable to help themselves, consumers were obliged to submit, and many dealers have thus been induced to lay in heavy stocks, in anticipation of the rise in prices. It must be clear from the above quotation that this was a gross deception. The miers could have turnished an ample supply, but did not choose to do so. They preferred to realize the same profits by less labor, and now their study is to sustain prices. And when there is a prospect of our obtaining cheaper coal by some arrangements which prep osterous .- Phila. North American.

Senator Douglass at Chleago.

That hot-bed of fanaticism, the Syracuse of Illi nois, whose Common Council a few years ago passed an ordinance nullifying a law of the United States, and then backed out from their position, under the seldge-hammer knocks of Senator Douglass, has this time taken the precaution of not hearing him, lest they should again be obliged to confess themselves in the wrong. The York Mirror says: pulpits of many of the churches are turned into rosused for the same end? As to the flags of the shipping being set at half mast, that is understood to have been an expression of "indignation," because the Hon. Senator voted against wasting millions of the public money upon river and harbour "improvements" for the benefit of speculators in many cases, rather than for any purposes deserving to be called national. For ourselves, we honor such independence in our public men, and wish we had more of it.

Little Lilybell. When unseen fingers part the leaves And show us Beauty's face, And Earth her breast of glory heaves And glows from Spring's embrace; When flowers on green and golden wings Float up-Life's sea doth swell

And flush a world of vernal things--Come, little Lilybell. And like a blessed bird of calm, Our Love's sweet wants she stilled. Made Passion's fiery wine run balm,-Life's glory half fulfilled.

From dapple dawn to twinkling dark This witching Ariel Fills all our heaven; or like a lark Sings little Lilybell. And she is fair, O very fair,

And lightly leans her world of care Upon our arms of Love. It cannot be that ye will break The promise-tale ye tell, Ye will not make such fond hearts ache, O little Lilybell! As on Life's stream her leaflets spread

And tremble in its flow, We shudder, lest the awful Dead Pluck at her from below; Breathe softly low, ye winds that start, O, stream, but faintly swell: Your every motion smites the heart For little Lilybell. We tremble: lest the angel Death,

Who comes to gather flowers For Paradise—at her sweet breath Should fall in love with ours. , many a year may come and go, Ere from Life's mystic well Such stream shall flow, such flower shall blow As our sweet Lilybell.

O, when thy dear heart fills with fears, And aches with Love's sweet pain And pale cheeks burn through happy tears, Like red rose in the rain-I marvel, sweet, if we shall see The light, and say, 'tis well, When the Beloved calls for thee, Our dainty Lilybell ?

How rich Love made the lowly sod Where such a flower hath blown O. Love, we look, and think that God Is such a love full grown. Dear God, that gave the blessed trust. Be near that all be well, And morn and eve bedew our dust

The recently developed frauds, exciting the fear of contingent losses, and the dissimulation which has been too often practiced in making inexplicit and imperfect reports that have been confided in for a time only, to end in the disclosure of liabilities before unknown or unheard of by the stockholders, have produced a distrust, which has operated most unfavorably upon Railroad stocks of all descriptions, and depressed very many of them far below their intrinsic value. This distrust, however, we believe, is temporary, for it springs from a remedial cause. olders are unwilling to submit to.

Corn Meal—The arrivals this week have been only two small lots per railroad, which have gone into store. There is a fair supply on market, and we notice small sales at 95 cents & bushel.

EGGS—Come in very sparingly, and are in demand. We quote at 25 cents & dozen, from carts.

EMPTY BARRELS—Spirits Turpentine barrels are in limited demand, with a full supply on market. We continue former quotations, at which small sales have been made—$2.15 @ $2.25 for second hand, and $2.25, $2.37\\ @ $2.50 cach for new, as in quality and size. as in quality and size.

Fish—Mullets are in light supply, with some enquiry. A lot of 36 bbls, arrived on Thursday last and sold at $5 50@$5 75 as to size of bbls. For store prices of other qualities we refer to our table.

FLOUR—Since our last review the market for Fayetteville FLOUR—Since our last review the market for Fayetteville brands has ruled steady, and we have but small sales to report at $9 25 for superfine. The receipts have been light, and there is only a small supply in first hands. The demand is limited, and confined principally to retailers. Retails at $9 50 by the single bbl. Northern brands are also in light supply, and sell from store at $12@$14 for extra quality.

Grain—In Corn the market continues to rule dull. Two cargoes of 3,450 bushels arrived on Thursday last, 400 bushels of which retailed at 90 cents $\psi$ bushel; the balance has been stored. There is a full stock in store and little or no demand; sells at $5 cents for yellow, and 90 cents $\psi$ bushel for white.—Oats—Are in fair supply, and we note but a light demand; none received during the week. Sales from store at 62\psi$ cents $\psi$ bushel, in lots.—Peas—Cow Peas continue in good demand, and we have no arrivals to report. Quotations good demand, and we have no arrivals to report. STAVES AND HEADING-We are still without receipts of either of these articles, and they are both in demand. Quotations nominal at $20@$25 @ M. for W. O. Bbl. Staves, and $12 @ M. for Ash Heading, for good quality.

TIMBER—There is but little demand for this article from willow as a binary and the state of the s millers or shippers, and we know of only one raft received this week, which sold at $10 $\mathre{B}$ M. week, which sold at $10 \( \overline{\pi} \) M.

Freights—Coastwise prices remain as last week reported.

We note a fair supply waiting for shipment to New York, and vessels wanted. To other ports there is not much freight offering. See table for last rates paid

NEW-BERNE, Sept. 8.—Bacon—No sale to report. The market is quite bear, and a few small lots of hams would bring readily the highest of our quotations. Beeswax—Sales of small lots at 26@27 cents $\eta$ fb. Corn—The receipts of this article are about equal to the demand for retail. A flat load was sold a few days ago at 80 cents $\eta$ bushel, small lots from carts would bring more, say from 85 to 90 cents. Meal—Meal is in fair supply, but continues to range at high figures; we quote last sales by the lot at $1 10 $\eta$ bushel. Sweet Potatoes as yet come in in light supplies, and are retailed at $1 $\eta$ bushel.
